Strict Constructionist

A look inside the development and construction industries throughout the five boroughs, as well as Upstate New York, New Jersey, Connecticut. New York Construction magazine's new blog will deliver timely news and insightful commentary, as well as a comprehensive look at what's being heard, overheard, and reported across the region.

NY Construction Releases Top 100 Contractor Rankings

Though we're still waiting to get it up online in its entirety, we wanted to give the industry its first look at the New York Construction Top 100 Contractors rankings.

As I reported a couple of weeks ago in my sneak preview of the region's Top 10, this year's survey had a record response, which, in turn, allowed us to expand the list from its usual Top 75 to the Top 100 - a number we hope to continue for years to come. The expansion to 100 allowed 21 firms that have never appeared in our rankings to make this list - interestingly, six of those new firms cracked the Top 75 anyway. The rankings are already out in our April issue, which was sent out to subscribers last week, and the complete rankings - which include more detailed information for each firm, as well as several more rankings based on specific region and discipline - will soon be available on our website.

Without further ado, here are the Top 100 Contractors ranked by 2008 Regional Revenue:
